

Diagraphs Worksheets

A digraph is two letters that spell one sound.

Digraphs that spell consonant sounds include the letter pairs
sh, ch, th, wh, ph, ck, ng

Ship

Chips

Three

Whiskers

Duck

Phone

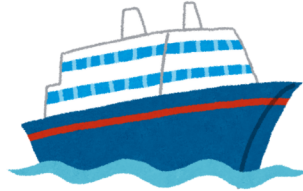

Swing

Diagraph "sh"

Shelf

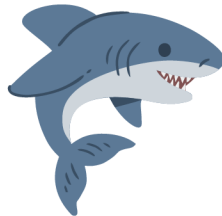

Ship

Shoe

Shirt

Shark

Shop

Can you draw something that starts with the 'sh' sound?

A large empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for a child to draw something that starts with the 'sh' sound.

Diagraph "ch"

Chocolate

Chips

Chair

Cheeks

Chick

Cheese

Can you draw something that starts with the 'ch' sound?

Diagraph "th"

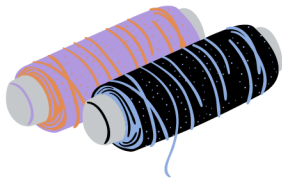

Thumb

Think

Thick

Thread

Thunder

Three

Can you draw something that starts with the 'th' sound?

A large, empty rectangular box with a thick black border, intended for a child to draw an object that starts with the 'th' sound.

Diagraph "wh"

Wheel

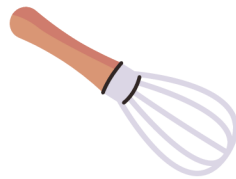

Whale

White

Whiskers

Whisk

Wirl

Can you draw something that starts with the 'wh' sound?

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for a child to draw something that starts with the 'wh' sound.

Diagraph 'ph'

Phonics

Photo

Pharmacy

Phone

Phoenix

Phobia

Can you draw something that starts with the 'ph' sound?

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for a child to draw something that starts with the 'ph' sound.

Diagraph "ck"

Duck

Kick

Sock

Sack

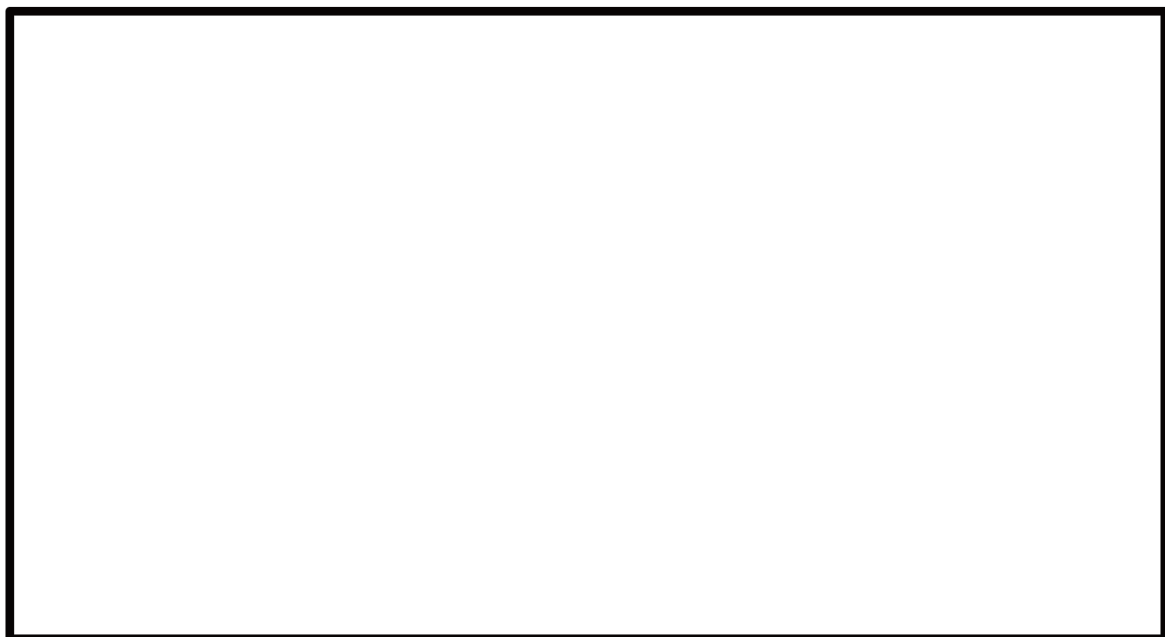

Clock

Snack

Can you draw something that has "ck" sound?

Diagraph "ng"

Swing

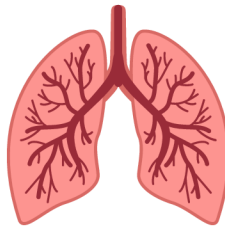

Ring

Tongue

King

Lung

Wing

Can you draw something that has the "ng" sound?

A large, empty rectangular box with a thick black border, intended for a child to draw an object that contains the 'ng' sound.